New Quadrant Partners Ltd - New Appointment

New Quadrant Partners, the London based boutique private client law firm, announces the appointment of Ray McCann as a partner with the firm with effect from 1st June 2015.

Ray was formally a partner at Pinsent Masons, where he led their private wealth tax practice and advised corporate clients on a range of advisory and HMRC related issues, in particular in complex tax disputes and investigations.

Ray was a senior HMRC Inspector until 2006 where he held a number of high profile investigations and policy roles, including working on cross border tax avoidance issues with tax authorities in the US, Australia and Canada and the introduction of "DOTAS" in 2004.

On leaving HMRC, Ray joined PWC where he was part of the Banking & Capital Markets team and led the dispute resolution team for Financial Services. He also worked with the PwC Entrepreneur & Private Client team on a range of family-owned company transactions. Then in late 2010, Ray joined McGrigors (now Pinsent Mason).

Louise Stoten, Senior Partner said "We are delighted to have Ray joining us. His experience strengthens our service offering and our team. His deep knowledge, practical experience and advice in dispute resolution with HMRC is unparalleled and gives our firm a leading edge in an environment where inquiries and HMRC controversy is an increasing issue for HNWI's and their businesses".
