

Top 35 Under 35 Women 2015

New Quadrant Partners are delighted that more of our team have made it on to the Eprivateclient Top 35 Under 35 this year, which is the definitive annual list of young private client practitioners.

Aimee Mitchell and Helen McGhee both have made it on the prestigious award, which is a great result for the firm.

Aimee has a broad experience advising individuals, trust companies, families and businesses on all aspects of trust law, wealth and succession planning, and tax planning, with particular experience in matters involving offshore or multi-jurisdictional elements.

Aimee has a significant US/UK client base with expertise in advising on and implementing dual UK/US estate plans with her burgeoning network of US advisers.

Helen has a wealth of knowledge advising owner managed businesses on incorporation, succession planning and a variety of other tax issues related to private equity transactions. She has a particular appreciation of corporate strategic tax objectives, having spent a year working as in house counsel for a large multi-national construction group.

She has a significant dispute resolution practice; negotiating and litigating with the HMRC on a range of contentious tax planning and mitigation points. She has gained considerable experience in helping individuals and corporate to regularise their tax affairs under HMRC disclosure facilities.

- Awarded Rising Star at the LexisNexis Taxation Awards 2015
- Shortlisted for the Taxation Rising Star Award for 2014

Louise Stoten, Senior Partner, said “the firm is proud that Aimee and Helen have both been listed as one of the top 35 women under 35 in private client by eprivateclient. The ‘Top 35 Under 35’ is designed to identify, recognise, introduce and promote the rising stars of the private client professions. Aimee and Helen are certainly two to watch and are a credit to my team”.
